RAR Archiver - license for use and distribution

The RAR archiver is distributed as try before you buy. This means:

1. All copyrights to RAR are exclusively owned by the author
- Alexander Roshal.
2. Anyone may use this software during a test period of 40 days.
Following this test period of 40 days or less, if you wish to continue to use RAR, you must purchase a license.
3. There are 2 basic types of licenses issued for RAR, these are:
 - a. A single computer usage license. The user purchases one license to use RAR archiver on one computer.

Home users may use their single computer usage license on all computers which are in property of the license owner.

Business users require one license per computer RAR is installed on.

- b. A multiple usage license. The user purchases a number of usage licenses for use, by the purchaser or the purchaser's employees on the same number of computers.

In a network (server/client) environment you must purchase a license copy for each separate client (workstation) on which RAR is installed, used, or accessed. A separate license copy for each client (workstation) is needed regardless of whether the clients (workstations) will use RAR simultaneously or at different times. If for example you wish to have 9 different clients (workstations) in your network with access to RAR, you must purchase 9 license copies.

A user who purchased a RAR license, is granted a non-exclusive right to use RAR on as many computers as defined by the licensing terms above according to the number of licenses purchased, for any legal purpose. The licensed RAR software may not be rented or leased, but may be permanently transferred, in its entirety, if the person receiving it agrees to the terms of this license. If the software is an update, the transfer must include the update and all previous versions.

4. Licensing for RAR on mobile devices (U3 stick, USB stick, external harddrive):

In addition to the terms stated above following licensing terms apply to the licensing of RAR on mobile devices.

a. A single computer usage license. Home users may use their single computer usage license on all mobile devices which are in property of the license owner.

Business users may use their single computer usage license on one computer and one mobile device.

b. A multiple usage license. Users who own a multiple usage license may use that license on the same number of mobile devices as number of computers (clients) the license was purchased for.

The number of computers/devices running RAR at any time is limited to the number of licenses purchased according to the licensing terms above.

A licensed version of RAR on a mobile device may be used by the purchaser or the purchaser's employees, on several computers consecutively.

There are no additional license fees, apart from the cost of purchasing a license, associated with the use of RAR from a mobile device on computers that are not owned by the owner of the RAR license.

5. The RAR/WinRAR unlicensed trial version may be freely distributed, with exceptions noted below, provided the distribution package is not modified in any way.

a. No person or company may distribute separate parts of the package with the exception of the UnRAR components, without written permission of the copyright owner.

b. The RAR/WinRAR unlicensed trial version may not be distributed inside of any other software package without written permission of the copyright owner.

c. Hacks/cracks, keys or key generators may not be included on the same distribution.

those archives free of any additional RAR royalties.
